

Reiner magazine editor Kathy Swan announced Monday, May 12, that five contributing writers would be receiving awards during the American Horse Publication Awards Banquet in mid-June.

Cheryl Magoteaux, of Pro Management, is one of the writers who will be honored, for her article "McDynasty," featuring the only husband-wife team of National Reining Horse Association Million Dollar Riders.

In years past, it was almost common-place to see Magoteaux's name among lists of award-winning journalists, but with the growth of her business, it has been difficult for her to find the time to write. In fact, the McDynasty article is the only one she wrote in 2007.